

ABSTRACT

Automatically entering data into a clinical analyzer's operating control system, the data associated with an object to be placed into the clinical analyzer, by providing special symbols as an additional identifier in indicia affixed to the object.